

~ Important announcement ~

Ending months of speculation, Sir Montgomery Cecil – industrialist, aviator, and President of SPURT Aviation – has cast his die in the political arena.

MONTY BACKS BROWN

People of Britain,

We have a new enemy – environmentalists. These yoghurt-peddling doom mongers keep bleating about ‘global warming’, ignoring entirely the cost this entails to my personal business interests and shareholders.

In such times, we need a political leader who will not be cowed into taking climate change seriously: a titan who will make the tough decisions required to do practically nothing about the environment.

In Gordon Brown, we have such a man.

His Pre Budget Report was a victory for business sense. With this colossus at the helm, we will be unharried by the current mass mania to ‘go green’.

- Having commissioned the Stern Report designed to save the planet from climate change, he had the courage to ignore its foolish recommendations.
- Having made a rash promise to put the environment at the heart of economic policy, he had the good sense to do no such thing.
- Facing pressure from scientists, development charities, climate experts and a vast public majority, he had the resolve to put business interests first.

It has not been easy to reach my decision. David Cameron has impressed me with his natural grasp of public relations, but I am confident that he will stay refreshingly free from real policies. But in Gordon Brown, environmentalism will surely feel the clunking fist of inaction.

Sir Montgomery Cecil

WHY GO GREEN, WHEN YOU CAN HAVE BROWN?

Thank you Gordon

- My 4x4 unencumbered by extra taxes
- A trifling £5 tax increase on short haul flights
- Proposals from your Barker Report for fast track planning to silence local whingers

PLEASE SEND TO: Rt Hon Gordon Brown MP, HM Treasury 1 Horse Guards Road, SW1A 2HQ

Dear Mr Brown,

I admire your brave refusal to take action on climate change. Perhaps you should also forget your AIDS and immunisation initiatives in Africa. With World Health Organisation estimates of 150,000 people dying each year due to global warming, soon the continent will be really cooking. So please, let’s make no hasty decisions about the climate – you’ve got plenty of time to do nothing when you’re in office. You’ve got my vote.
